

AG ALBERT
GOODMAN

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS,
TAX CONSULTANTS &
FINANCIAL PLANNERS

LLOYDS BANK

Battens
Solicitors

INVITATION

DANGERS IN A CYBER WORLD

Owners of small business have many things to worry about. Not only is there the challenge of growing a successful and sustainable business but there has been the slowly increasing pressure of red tape. Now another hassle has risen from the firmament – making sure your business is secure from cyber-attacks. At the same time there is the need to keep up with the ever expanding opportunities of our digital age, ensuring you are utilising the benefits of new technologies like the cloud.

As well as this excellent panel of informative speakers this free seminar will include a light breakfast. To book please email kerry.hake@albertgoodman.co.uk or ring her on 01823 286096.

How to get there: Kingstons Maurward College is clearly signposted just off the A35, three miles east of Dorchester in central Dorset. Getting here is easy and there is plenty of FREE on-site parking.

Date: 26 September 2017

Timings: 7.30am.

Location: Kingstons Maurward College, Dorchester

Speakers:

Jon Edge - Albert Goodman Weymouth, Business Services Group Manager - Chairman

Martyn Rochelle - Lloyds Bank Commercial – Anti-Fraud expert

Brian Levine - Battens Solicitors Head of Media & Entertainment/ Corporate Team - 'The Trouble with Data: the new general data protection regulations and their implications'

Ian Phillips - Senior Account Manager Xero Cloud Accounting - 'How the quantum leap in online technology is rewiring the small business economy'

www.albertgoodman.co.uk

